Summer Schools Supplant County Teacher Institutes

Frankfort.—Summer schools for teachers will supplant the county teachers' institutes in Kentucky this summer, and instead of a week of lectures and speeches they will have five weeks' actual normal school work, for which they will receive credit in their scholastic requirements.

It is an innovation State Superintendent George Colvin has had in mind for several months and at the national meeting of superintendents at Atlantic City he learned that North Carolina had tried the experiment with complete success.

Like the institutes the summer schools will be supported by fees or local appropriations. Co-operation of the University of Kentucky, Western State Normal, Berea College in Eastern Kentucky and the Louisville Normal is whole-hearted.

Berea will take care of four counties offering five weeks' school to the teachers, everything included for $25, and will accept the teachers' notes payable out of next year's salaries.

One of the reasons for the summer schools is the high qualifications demanded of teacher by the common school law, which in four more years will require normal training as well as high school and college education.
Correspondence courses are amplifying the capacity of the university and normal schools and reaching teachers unable to attend the schools. The summer schools are expected to accomplish still more in practical results.

The faculties of the summer schools will be college graduates and experts in their particular lines. "The course will include instruction in the Kentucky school laws as well as professional subjects directly dealing with instructing the pupils."—Courier-Journal.

* VISITS JOSEPH SEEP.

The following is from the Oil City Derrick:

A. B. Ayres, president of the Union Gas & Oil Co., and Frank M. McMillan, secretary and treasurer of the Union Gas & Oil Co., both of Indianapolis, Ind., were in Oil City on Monday and were here visited by Joseph Seep, general manager of the Joseph Seep Oil & Gas Company, at his office in the National Trust building. Mr. Ayres is a great admirer of Mr. Seep. The Union Gas & Oil Co. is the holder of one of the largest blocks of oil leases in the state of Kentucky. It operates in Lawrence and Johnson counties. Mr. Ayres states that the production of the company is now 15,000 barrels monthly and that 72 wells have been completed by the company without a single failure. Mr.
McMillan is one of the leading bankers and capitalists of Eastern Indiana.

FORD CARS MAY BE BOUGHT ON TIME

Purchasers of Ford automobiles can buy on a monthly payment plan if they so desire and are willing to pay interest and some small costs connected with the transaction. The cost of the new Ford touring car with starter on this monthly payment plan, extending over 12 months, is $298.25 cash payment and $34.40 per month. This covers interest, insurance against loss by theft or fire, etc. Notes bearing no interest are taken for the monthly payments. AUGUSTUS SNYDER, Agent,

FIRE DESTROYS WAYNE COUNTY HOUSE AND LIBERTY BONDS

Steve Porter, a contractor on the lower section of Wayne county hard road grade, lost his household goods, a quantity of merchandise and $200 worth of Liberty Bonds when fire destroyed his home on Sunday evening.
The house was located on Pymale's Branch, just above the mouth of Buffalo. The house was property of Octavo Pymale and had been rented to Mr. Porter.

The fire, which was discovered about five o'clock Sunday evening, was of unknown origin. However, it was thought probable that it was the result of mice gnawing on a box of matches.

Mr. Porter came here from Mingo county and accepted a sub contract on the road work in the Buffalo section.
He was in Matewan at the time of the famous Matewan gun battle several weeks ago, and was a star witness in the trial recently held in Williamson.
The flames from the house set the woods on fire Sunday and considerable effort was necessary to keep this from spreading. The fire was a total loss, since no insurance was carried.—

Wayne County Wants Share of W. Va. Road Fund

The counties of Mercer, McDowell, Mingo, Wayne and Cabell ought to get together and plan some concerted action to be taken with respect to the road measure to come before the legislature, which meets on Wednesday.
These counties are interested in having a main highway running from the Virginia line through by Bluefield, Weich, Williamson and Kenova to Huntington. There is no other route talked of that is so vital as this to the counties named.

Now, from things that have been said and done by men from other sections it appears plain as a pike staff that an attempt will be made to spend the money on other main thoroughfares and leave this section to be content with lateral connections. This will not do. We in this end of the state are entitled to better treatment—to better treatment and we must have it.
The way to get it is to organize and demand it—now.

Mingo county must organize at once.
Then we must take the matter up with Mercer, McDowell, Wayne and Cabell.
The time is short. We cannot afford to put it off. We must get busy at once.

We have a senator and a member of the house from this city who will do all they can. It is probable that the representatives from other counties named will do everything they can to help get the road we want and should have. But they need help. They need the aroused, fighting spirit of the people of the section back of them.

The time is here for getting busy—Williamson Daily News.

We are satisfied that Senators York and McClaren of this district and Delegates Terrill and Preston of this county will do all in their power to see that southern West Virginia gets a share of the fifty million dollars to be spent in the State for good roads.
Wayne county gave a handsome majority in favor of the bond issue and expects you demands her share of money to be spent.

It has been intimated that an effort will be made to have the trunk line built from Huntington through Logan to Williamson and Bluefield and that Wayne county will be left out. We want to see every county in the state gets its pro rata of the bond issue.
Now is the time for Wayne county people to get busy. Our representatives need the help of all prominent citizens and taxpayers in the county.
Ceredo Advance.

LOUISE BURRIS BLACK.

After several weeks' illness, Mrs.
Louise Black of Buchanan, Ky., widow of F. F. Black, and daughter of the late M. T. and Agnes Burris, answered the call of the Father to come up higher.

She leaves to mourn her loss four brothers and four sisters and six children, Willard, Ethel, Everett, Roy, Herbert and Hazel.

Mrs. Black was born in Boyd county, Ky., July 8, 1867. Early in life she became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and remained faithful until death. Before her marriage she taught in the public schools of Wayne county, W. Va., and of Lawrence county, Ky. Several years ago when her husband was accidentally killed, she shouldered the entire burden of rearing her family and provided a comfortable living for herself and children. She will be remembered as a worthy daughter, a loving sister, a devoted wife, and a Christian mother. —A BROTHER.

NINETIETH BIRTHDAY.
